Political Endorsements

(Editorial) 10-29-2008

With the long election cycle finally coming to an end next Tuesday, we felt it was important to give our thoughts on some of the candidates running for office.

. . . we prefer some new blood and a new approach on the Commission board.

That's why we're endorsing Steve Sisolak.

He is one of the few politicians we've ever met who had the courage to give an honest answer of "I don't know" to a question without bobbing and weaving.

There is also an intellectual calmness about him that inspires confidence.
